

WATCH

BREAKFAST TELEVISION
WITH
SIMI SARA & DAVE GERRY
EACH MORNING AT 6:55 & 7:55
FOR YOUR CELEBRATIONS!

HAPPY BIRTHDAY NOAH THE KID!

HAPPY BIRTHDAY JOVY!

HAPPY BIRTHDAY ANTHONY!

Send photos & details a few days in advance for your special 'Celebrations' to: Breakfast Television at Citytv
Email - breakfasttelevision@citytv.com
Mail or drop off to :
180 W. 2nd Ave Vancouver, BC V5Y 3T9

Cable 13

Socialites chip in for charity

(From left) Dr. Patrick Smith, Dr. Sheena Sood, Peter Girges (Glowbal), Peter Coleridge (health promotion specialist) and Allison Crane (Canadian Red Cross) gather 'round at Glowbal's Hurricane Katrina fundraiser. ALISON WALKER/FOR METRO VANCOUVER

(From left) Leslie Mauro (director of development), Ted Lederer (Elliott Louis Gallery) and Leigh Williamson (campaign director) at Jeans for Genes Day. ALISON WALKER/FOR METRO VANCOUVER

Heather Crawford (store manager, left) and Sara Francoeur (owner, designer) show off their collection at the Narcissist Design Co. Shopping Party. ALISON WALKER/FOR METRO VANCOUVER

Glowbal Grill & Satay Bar (1079 Mainland) hosted a fundraiser for the Canadian Red Cross Hurricane Katrina Relief Fund on Sept. 14, with a silent auction that included Canucks memorabilia, BMW gear and gift certificates for the Opus Hotel. The restaurant matched the highest bidder: a tie between Dr. Sheena Sood and Dr. Patrick Smith, who each donated $2,500.

The after-work crowd partied at Stonegrill (1661 Granville St.) on Sept. 14 to celebrate Urban Mixers' (a group for adventurous singles) two-year anniversary. Started by IT tycoon Raj Taneja, activities include bull-riding and whitewater rafting.

The Elliott Louis Gallery (in the Waterfall Building on West 2nd) held an art auction on Sept. 15 with paintings by the late Dr. John S. O'Brien — artist, jazz pianist and world-renowned scientist, who discovered the Tay-Sachs gene.

All proceeds went to Jeans for Genes Day (Nov. 3, to raise money for genetic research) and not a single piece of art went unsold.

SOCIAL EYES
alison walker
vancouverletters@metronews.ca

Loverboy frontman Mike Reno performed with Catherine St. Germain's band at the 25th annual Terry Fox Run in Stanley Park on Sept. 18. Runners were treated to a complimentary breakfast from The Four Seasons Hotel after crossing the finish line.

Narcissist Design Co. threw a Shopping Party on Sept. 14 at their flagship store on Main at 21st. This hip spot looks like a set from The Royal Tenenbaums, with a crystal chandelier and racks of whimsical, elegant apparel all designed locally by Sara Robson Francoeur. Her latest work is a line of bridesmaids' gowns, and not the kind that get made into Halloween costumes — there's not a stitch of taffeta or crinoline in sight.

(From left) Raj Taneja (founder of Urban Mixer and Social Empire), Frances Hui (exec. director of Social Empire) and Warren Frey (writer) partied at Stonegrill. ALISON WALKER/FOR METRO VANCOUVER

(From left) James Wright (guitar), Jeff St. Germain (vocals), Catherine St. Germain (vocals), Loverboy's Mike Reno, Andre Kunkle (bass) and Peter Barone (drums) provided music at the Terry Fox Run celebration in Stanley Park. ALISON WALKER/FOR METRO VANCOUVER